

ABSTRACT

5 A mobile alarm method, system component, and alarm system, where the component or alarm system is fixably located within a passenger vehicle and the component communicates wirelessly with a mobile alarm controller and the component performs an alarm indication function based on signals received from the mobile alarm controller.